July 5, 2009

The Roots

The Grammy Award winning band from Philadelphia is widely viewed as the “greatest hip-hop group in the world. Period.” But that doesn’t tell the whole story. With their jazzy instrumentation and eclectic approach to the form, they have collaborated with artists in rock, jazz and country—and in March they took on a new assignment—as house band for Late Night With Jimmy Fallon on NBC-TV. Other media appearances include Dave Chappelle’s Block Party, The Colbert Report, and Nickelodeon’s Yo Gabba Gabba, among many others.

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 7:30pm. Tickets ($30 advance. $35 day of show).

July 7, 2009

Tony Bennett

"For my money, Tony Bennett is the best singer in the business. He excites me when I watch him. He moves me. He's the singer who gets across what the composer has in mind, and probably a little more." – Frank Sinatra.

Flynn Theater, 8pm. Tickets ($55 to $95 with additional limited number of Gold Circle seats and special Taste of Champlain reception $149).

July 8, 2009

Steve Earle and Aimee Mann.

Rolling Stone calls Steve Earle, “one of the finest songwriters working in any genre.” Grammy winner Aimee Mann was firmly established as a leading indie rock guitarist, singer, and songwriter before she composed and performed eight songs, including her Oscar nominated Save Me, for the widely celebrated soundtrack for Paul Thomas Anderson’s film, Magnolia.

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 7pm. Tickets $30 advance $35 day of.

July 9, 2009

Buddy Guy and Bettye LaVette.

Five-time Grammy-winning blues legend Buddy Guy “was to me what Elvis was for others. He is by far the best guitar player alive...if you see him in person, the way he plays is beyond anyone.” – Eric Clapton. “Heaven is lying at Buddy Guy’s feet, listening to him play guitar.” – Jimmy Hendrix. ALSO soul pioneer Bettye LaVette, “a singer whose phrasing and vocal texture recall Otis Redding and the younger Tina Turner with silk threads woven into the burlap.” -- New York Times.

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 7pm. Tickets ($35 advance/$40 day of show).

July 10, 2009

Quebec All-Stars

Featuring Quebec's hugely popular Les Cowboys Fringants (the Dashing Cowboys) blending rock, country, and traditional music. "Memorable, irresistible beats, funny lyrics, a stage presence full of energy and joy. I'm a fan!" – Naddia Loddo, Paris Metro. ALSO Juno award-winning Vermont favorites, Le Vent du Nord. "When it comes to rhythm, Le Vent du Nord is loaded, as the crisp pulse of these nearly forgotten songs for dancing, drinking, and flirting show."

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 7:30pm. Tickets ($10).

July 11, 2009

No Borders Concert.

World-class artists capturing musical rhythms and flavors from around the world. Including the twelve-piece Antibalas Afrobeat Orchestra which "weaves a rich tapestry of latin, jazz, classical, funk and soul into their horn-driven mix. Words fail in trying to describe the result: simultaneously polyrhythmic and political, independent and contagious, and the reason why many have credited the band for introducing afrobeat's framework to a new generation." – Pitchfork Media. "Draws from African legend Fela Kuti and combines the "funk, organ and horn-section latticework of James Brown's 1970's music. Great." -- NY Times. ALSO Iroquois singer-songwriter Joanne Shenandoah. Music that's guaranteed to get you moving.

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 2pm. Tickets $25 advance, $27 day of show.

July 12, 2009

Queen City Concert Series: Grace Potter and the Nocturnals. ALSO,

Vermont's 70's blue grass super group, Pine Island reunites for a Quadracentennial blow out to celebrate the release of Big Heavy World's new CD, Thrufters & Throughstones: The Music of Vermont's First 400 Years.

Waterfront Park Main Stage, 6pm. Tickets $30 advance, $35 day of.

Kids' Concert with Grammy Award winner Dan Zanes, (July 6 & 7) known for his appeal to all ages---and his terrific musicians. "Cool," says the New York Times. "Zanes' kids music works because it is not kids music; it's just music---music that's unsanitized, unpasteurized, that's organic even." 3pm, Waterfront Park Main Stage. Ticketed event ($15 advance ($17 day of show) / Families (up to 4) $40).

Aurelia's Oratorio
July 13th & 14th, 2009
Flynn Theater, 7:30pm
Tickets @ flynntix.org
Tickets - $15-$25

Aurelia Oratorio

From France -- and directed by Victoria Chaplin and starring her daughter Aurelia Thierree. The spectacular, playful, and gripping theatrics of Aurelia's Oratorio promise to linger in your imagination for years after you experience the show. Indeed, a fourteen year-old boy was overheard talking to his buddy, after exiting a recent performance. "I'll never be the same," he said. "If I could do this for the rest of my life, it's what I'd do."

With her husband Jean Baptiste Thierree, Victoria Chaplin has helped pioneer Europe's Cirque Nouveau – the thrilling theater spectacle with no ringleader, no animals, and no clowns. With Aurelia's Oratorio, Chaplin has broken new ground, combining theater, circus arts, vaudeville, and visual illusion to create a dream-like and sometimes surrealistic landscape of theatrical magic—for all ages.

"Whimsy and wit, childlike wonder and adult élan. Mesmerizing." -- Boston Globe."

"Dreamlike and enchanting...Aurélia's Oratorio is akin to living inside a glass of champagne: for an hour and a half, reality itself seems effervescent." —Edge Boston.

Three shows – July 13th, 2008, 8pm and July 14th 3pm and 8pm.

Tony Bennett
www.tonybennett.net

The Burlington International Waterfront Festival proudly presents Jazz Legend Tony Bennett for one night only at the Flynn! One of the legends of jazz, Tony Bennett has won fifteen Grammys, two Emmys, and he has been named a National Endowment for the Arts Jazz Master and Kennedy Center Honoree—and he has sold more than 50 million records worldwide. A firm believer in the civil rights movement Bennett participated in the 1965 Selma to Montgomery marches and, years later, joined the entertainers' boycott of apartheid in South Africa. In recognition for his lifelong commitment to social justice, Mr. Bennett was given the United Nations Commissioner for Refugees Humanitarian Award.

"For my money, Tony Bennett is the best singer in the business. He excites me when I watch him. He moves me. He's the singer who gets across what the composer has in mind, and probably a little more." – Frank Sinatra.

Steve Earle

Aimee Mann

Alternate country rocker Steve Earle's songs evoke quintessentially American landscapes populated by hardscrabble characters infused with an indomitable spirit. Awards include two Grammys, thirteen Grammy nominations and a Country Artist of the Year citation by Rolling Stone Magazine. He has guest starred on a number of episodes of HBO's The Wire – and Earle has collaborated with Johnny Cash, Sheryl Crow, Patti Smith, Joan Baez, Emmy Lou Harris, Lucinda Williams, Carl Perkins, Levon Helm, The Highwaymen, Percy Sledge, and many others. In 1975 Elvis Presley was due to record his song, "Mustang Wire" but Presley never showed up at the recording studio. And Earle's songs have been performed in more than a dozen films, from Brokeback Mountain, The Horse Whisperer, and You Can Count on Me, to Bridge to Terabithia and Talladega Nights.

"One of the finest songwriters working in any genre." -- Rolling Stone

Grammy winner Aimee Mann was firmly established as a leading indie rock guitarist, singer, and songwriter before she composed and performed eight songs, including her Oscar nominated Save Me, for the widely celebrated soundtrack for Paul Thomas Anderson's film, Magnolia. In fact, Anderson worked from Mann's lyrics to create characters and situations for the film—and resulting in her becoming a much sought-after soundtrack contributor. Mann has also appeared in films and television including the Coen Brothers The Big Lebowski.

"Aimee Mann has earned a rep as the Raymond Carver of pop: author of precisely observed tales in which broken characters arrive at quiet epiphanies... Mann's music can haunt you for years." - Rolling Stone

Queen City Concert Series

The Roots

July 5th, 2009

Waterfront Stage, 7:30pm

Tickets @ flyntix.org - $30, advance. $35 day of show

The Roots

This Grammy Award winning band from Philadelphia is widely viewed as the “greatest hip-hop group in the world. Period.” But that doesn’t tell the whole story. With their jazzy instrumentation and eclectic approach to the form, they have collaborated with artists in rock, jazz and country—and in March they took on a new assignment—as house band for Late Night With Jimmy Fallon on NBC-TV. Other media appearances include Spike Lee’s Bamboozled, Dave Chappelle’s Block Party, The Colbert Report, and Nickelodeon’s Yo Gabba Gabba, among many others. The New York Times music critic Jon Caramanica calls The Roots, “legendary hip-hop workhorses known for precision and tenacity” and he notes the band’s multi-faceted performance appeal, saying, “In short, the greatest revelation of the first week of “Late Night With Jimmy Fallon” was that it’s wholly plausible that the Roots are funnier than their host.”

Antibalas Afrobeat Orchestra Joanne Shenandoah

No Borders Concert. Waterfront Park. World-class artists capturing musical rhythms and flavors from around the world. Including the twelve-piece Antibalas Afrobeat Orchestra which “weaves a rich tapestry of latin, jazz, classical, funk and soul into their horn-driven mix. Words fail in trying to describe the result: simultaneously polyrhythmic and political, independent and contagious, and the reason why many have credited the band for introducing afrobeat’s framework to a new generation.” – Pitchfork Media.

ALSO Grammy winning Iroquois singer-songwriter Joanne Shenandoah whose fourteen albums, three Grammy nominations, and eleven Native American music awards have firmly established her in the forefront of American music. Shenandoah has collaborated in her songwriting with artists including Neil Young, Robbie Robertson, Bruce Cockburn, and R. Carlos Nakai. Shenandoah is the daughter of Maisie Shenandoah, Wolf Clanmother of the Oneida Nation, and the late Clifford Shenandoah, an Onondaga Nation chief. She is the direct descendent of John Skenando (Skenandoa, Shenandoah) after whom the Shenandoah Valley region of Virginia is named.

Queen City Concert Series
Buddy Guy & Bettye LaVette
July 9th, 2009
Waterfront Stage, 7:00pm

Tickets @ flyntix.org - $35, advance. $40 day of show

Buddy Guy and Bettye LaVette. Five-time Grammy-winning blues legend Buddy Guy's awards include the National Medal of the Arts, awarded by the President—he's also a member of the Rock N' Roll Hall of Fame and Rolling Stone Magazine named him to its Top 100 Guitarists of All Time. And Guy was the "go-to man" when filmmaker Martin Scorsese was looking for a defining talent to accompany the Rolling Stones in Scorsese's 2007 film "Shine A Light." His songs have been covered, over the years, by Led Zeppelin, Eric Clapton, John Mayall, The Stones, and many others. "Buddy Guy was to me what Elvis was for others. He is by far the best guitar player alive...if you see him in person, the way he plays is beyond anyone." – Eric Clapton. "Heaven is lying at Buddy Guy's feet, listening to him play guitar." – Jimmy Hendrix.

"Mr. Guy, 68, mingles anarchy, virtuosity, deep blues and hammy shtick in ways that keep all eyes on him... [Guy] loves extremes: sudden drops from loud to soft, or a sweet, sustained guitar solo followed by a jolt of speed, or a high, imploring vocal cut off with a rasp. Whether he's singing with gentle menace or bending new curves into a blue note, he is a master of tension and release, and his every wayward impulse was riveting." -- Jon Pareles, New York Times

"If you think you don't have the blues," says Buddy Guy, "just keep living."

ALSO soul pioneer Bettye LaVette combines blues, rock, country, funk, and gospel and, with Jon Bon Jovi, she performed a powerhouse version of Sam Cooke's "A Change is Gonna Come" that brought the crowd to its feet at Barack Obama's Washington pre-inaugural concert earlier this year. To say nothing of her show-stopping rendition of the Who's Love Reign Over Me at The Kennedy Center's tribute to Roger Daltrey and Pete Townshend. Over the years LaVette has toured with James Brown, Cab Calloway, Ben E. King, Otis Redding, and The Supremes. Don't miss this sublime talent. "A singer whose phrasing and vocal texture recall Otis Redding and the younger Tina Turner with silk threads woven into the burlap." -- New York Times.

Queen City Concert Series
Quebec All-Stars
July 10th, 2009
Waterfront Stage, 7:30pm
Tickets @ flyntix.org - $10

Les Cowboy Fringants / Le Vent du Nord

Quebec All-Stars featuring two of Quebec’s most popular bands. First, the hugely successful Cowboys Fringants (the Dashing Cowboys) blending rock, country, and traditional music. The band is Quebec’s most sought-after music act and has built a large cult following in France—for its virtuoso musicianship and engagement with Quebec history and 21st century social dynamics.

“Memorable, irresistible beats, funny lyrics, a stage presence full of energy and joy. I’m a fan!” – Naddia Loddo, Paris Metro.

ALSO Juno award-winning Vermont favorites, Le Vent du Nord which packed the Flynn Theater at last year’s Burlington First Night festival—and electrified audiences that same day for the debut edition of the Queen City Radio Hour for Vermont Public Radio—this was no surprise since they were also voted “show of the year” for their performance on the American concert radio series, Bound for Glory.

“When it comes to rhythm, Le Vent du Nord is loaded, as the crisp pulse of these nearly forgotten songs for dancing, drinking, and flirting show.”

Grace Potter and the Nocturnals
July 12th, 2009
Waterfront Stage, 6pm

Tickets @ flyntix.org - $30, advanced/$35 day of show

Grace Potter and the Nocturnals

Grace Potter and the Nocturnals. See the next biggest band to come out of Vermont and make a big national splash with its vibrant blend of funky blues, soul, rock—and even a touch of gospel. “It may seem paradoxical to describe the driving hard-rock sound of Grace Potter and the Nocturnals as comfort music. But a sense of familiarity, of a time-honored ritual expertly and reverently re-enacted, is one of the attractions of this Vermont quartet.”

“Ms. Potter, the band’s 24-year-old lead singer and songwriter, played a Hammond B-3 organ (one of three keyboards on the stage) as well as guitar. The organ is the most distinctive element in an instrumental sound that suggests a composite of Creedence Clearwater Revival, Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers, the Band, Crazy Horse and almost any other meat-and-potatoes rock outfit from the early and mid-1970s. The music defines what is meant by the term classic rock.”

“Vocally Ms. Potter has a high, fervent folk-rock delivery that suggests a grittier Patty Griffin. A theme that runs through her tuneful songwriting is passionate, often painful sexual combat and the continuing clash between her insistence on independence and the inconvenient emotions that turn relationships into power struggles.” -- Stephen Holden, New York Times.

“One of the most soulful new bands around.” - Bonnie Raitt.

Abby Paige – “When We Were French”

July 8th, 9th, 10th, 2009

Flynn Space, 8:00pm

Tickets @ flynntix.org - $15

When We Were French, Abby Paige’s one-woman show rendering a dozen vivid and unpredictable Franco-American characters and stories drawn from generations of the North Country’s often hidden French Canadian immigrant experience. The Champlain 400 Festival is excited to commission the research and development of this original performance, exploring our region’s important but often hidden Franco-American history and culture. Abby Paige is a graduate of South Burlington High School and Vasaar College where she excelled in performance and dramatic studies -- and won a Fulbright Fellowship to study theater and social change in Chile. She was a principal member of San Francisco’s acclaimed Killing My Lobster sketch comedy and improvisation group. Since returning to Vermont, Abby has worked as co-writer of Bess O’Brien’s Voices Project and her film, Shout it Out. She also co-wrote and co-starred in Jay Craven’s Windy Acres comedy TV series and she also co-wrote and performed in the debut edition of Craven’s Queen City Radio Hour. Dan Zanes

Kids' Concert with Grammy Award winner Dan Zanes, known for his appeal to all ages---and his terrific musicians. Mr. Zanes, 44, came to children's music after his work a front man for the Del Fuegos. It was fatherhood (his daughter, Anna, is 10) that spurred the transition, causing him to view his concerts as "like little Grateful Dead shows."

"The concerts always start with a lot of singing along and then it deteriorates into a dance party," said Zanes in a recent interview (not that kids object). We don't necessarily encourage chaos," he said, "but it's something we really enjoy."

"Cool," says the New York Times. "Zanes' kids music works because it is not kids music; its just music---music that's unsanitized, unpasteurized, that's organic even."
